Sonali Kohli,
Watching Obama's his speech. "The president claimed fan of the president. views of Obama. Hughes, a Garcia, a Republican, not so room.
'This is not a drill' Mary McNamara weighs andlistenedfromtheirliving Praying, grieving their home, an American years. In the frontyard of Hughes have been residents Oklahoma are the top
College Football
Four at a glance
This week's NFL
By Peter Jamison
today was a grimly familiar en-the sprawling facility for NLRB, now being investigated Osama Bin Laden's widow may have a new home in the A14
Reaction,

A11
By David Lutter

BE BEST FEATURE
FILM INDEPENDENT

MONDAY, DECEMBER 7, 2015

includes

OBAMA SEeks to Calm Americans on Terror Threat

But the size of the problem and limited options remain challenges

By Michael A. Mishou Washington — President Obama addressed the nation from the Oval Office on Sunday night to paying serious Americans that his administration has a strategy to defend American soil.

The Oval Office speech underscored the enormity of the problem, but it offered few new ideas.

Obama said in a new plan for strategy in the battle against Islamic State, and he again ruled out sending U.S. ground troops to fight in the Middle East.

The strategy he did present — more drone strikes, more special forces, more FBI investigations to rampage does not appear to
"The nation's sense of the slayings.
On Wednesday's tragedy
Today, those struggling to make sense of the nation's violent mass shootings.

Does San Bernardino give
weight to NRA’s argument?

By Peter Jahnke

I was three years old this month when World Trade Center terrorist attacks
crushed dreams and
visions of what the future
could have been.

This is a real terror
disaster that needs a real
response.

"I don't want to think about the mass shooting
in San Bernardino.

Michelle was 13 years
old when she and her family talked of what they would do in case of an attack.

"I don’t feel like there
are any answers.

Vince cemented his faith
in the police and how they helped.

"I think that this is a
terrorist act, a mass
murder as far as I can see."

Some strange story about how they knew they were coming.

"I think it’s all just a
drum.

"I felt there was a
message.

"I don’t want to think
about it.

"I don’t want to think about the terrorism.

"I don’t want to think
about it anymore.

"I don’t want to think
about it.

There's an element of reassurance in his speech that the U.S. military is done with Islamic State, and he again ruled out sending a large force of

The strategy he did present — more drone strikes,
more special forces, more FBI investigations to
rampage does not appear to
"The nation's sense of the slayings.
On Wednesday's tragedy
Today, those struggling
to make sense of the nation's
violent mass shootings.

Does San Bernardino give
weight to NRA’s argument?

By Peter Jahnke

I was three years old this
month when World Trade
Center terrorist attacks
crushed dreams and
visions of what the future
could have been.

This is a real terror
disaster that needs a real
response.

"I don't want to think
about the mass shooting
in San Bernardino.

Michelle was 13 years
old when she and her family
talked of what they would
do in case of an attack.

"I don’t feel like there
are any answers.

Vince cemented his faith
in the police and how
they helped.

"I think that this is a
terrorist act, a mass
murder as far as I can
see."

Some strange story about
how they knew they were
coming.

"I think it’s all just a
drum.

"I felt there was a
message.

"I don’t want to think
about it.

"I don’t want to think
about the terrorism.

"I don’t want to think
about it anymore.

"I don’t want to think
about it.

There's an element of
reassurance in his speech
that the U.S. military is done with Islamic State, and
he again ruled out sending
a large force of

The strategy he did present — more drone strikes,
more special forces, more FBI investigations to
rampage does not appear to
"The nation's sense of the slayings.
On Wednesday's tragedy
Today, those struggling
to make sense of the nation's
violent mass shootings.

Does San Bernardino give
weight to NRA’s argument?

By Peter Jahnke

I was three years old this
month when World Trade
Center terrorist attacks
crushed dreams and
visions of what the future
could have been.

This is a real terror
disaster that needs a real
response.

"I don't want to think
about the mass shooting
in San Bernardino.

Michelle was 13 years
old when she and her family
talked of what they would
do in case of an attack.

"I don’t feel like there
are any answers.

Vince cemented his faith
in the police and how
they helped.

"I think that this is a
terrorist act, a mass
murder as far as I can
see."

Some strange story about
how they knew they were
coming.

"I think it’s all just a
drum.

"I felt there was a
message.

"I don’t want to think
about it.

"I don’t want to think
about the terrorism.

"I don’t want to think
about it anymore.

"I don’t want to think
about it.

There's an element of
reassurance in his speech
that the U.S. military is done with Islamic State, and
he again ruled out sending
a large force of

The strategy he did present — more drone strikes,
more special forces, more FBI investigations to
rampage does not appear to
"The nation's sense of the slayings.
On Wednesday's tragedy
Today, those struggling
to make sense of the nation's
violent mass shootings.

Does San Bernardino give
weight to NRA’s argument?

By Peter Jahnke

I was three years old this
month when World Trade
Center terrorist attacks
crushed dreams and
visions of what the future
could have been.

This is a real terror
disaster that needs a real
response.

"I don't want to think
about the mass shooting
in San Bernardino.

Michelle was 13 years
old when she and her family
talked of what they would
do in case of an attack.

"I don’t feel like there
are any answers.

Vince cemented his faith
in the police and how
they helped.

"I think that this is a
terrorist act, a mass
murder as far as I can
see."

Some strange story about
how they knew they were
coming.

"I think it’s all just a
drum.

"I felt there was a
message.

"I don’t want to think
about it.

"I don’t want to think
about the terrorism.

"I don’t want to think
about it anymore.

"I don’t want to think
about it.

There's an element of
reassurance in his speech
that the U.S. military is
done with Islamic State, and
he again ruled out sending
a large force of

The strategy he did present — more drone strikes,
more special forces, more FBI investigations to
rampage does not appear to
"The nation's sense of the slayings.
On Wednesday's tragedy
Today, those struggling
to make sense of the nation's
violent mass shootings.

Does San Bernardino give
weight to NRA’s argument?

By Peter Jahnke

I was three years old this
month when World Trade
Center terrorist attacks
crushed dreams and
visions of what the future
could have been.

This is a real terror
disaster that needs a real
response.

"I don't want to think
about the mass shooting
in San Bernardino.

Michelle was 13 years
old when she and her family
talked of what they would
do in case of an attack.

"I don’t feel like there
are any answers.

Vince cemented his faith
in the police and how
they helped.

"I think that this is a
terrorist act, a mass
murder as far as I can
see."

Some strange story about
how they knew they were
coming.

"I think it’s all just a
drum.

"I felt there was a
message.

"I don’t want to think
about it.

"I don’t want to think
about the terrorism.

"I don’t want to think
about it anymore.

"I don’t want to think
about it.

There's an element of
reassurance in his speech
that the U.S. military is
done with Islamic State, and
he again ruled out sending
a large force of

The strategy he did present — more drone strikes,
more special forces, more FBI investigations to
rampage does not appear to
"The nation's sense of the slayings.
On Wednesday's tragedy
Today, those struggling
to make sense of the nation's
violent mass shootings.

Does San Bernardino give
weight to NRA’s argument?

By Peter Jahnke

I was three years old this
month when World Trade
Center terrorist attacks
crushed dreams and
visions of what the future
could have been.

This is a real terror
disaster that needs a real
response.

"I don't want to think
about the mass shooting
in San Bernardino.

Michelle was 13 years
old when she and her family
talked of what they would
do in case of an attack.

"I don’t feel like there
are any answers.

Vince cemented his faith
in the police and how
they helped.

"I think that this is a
terrorist act, a mass
murder as far as I can
see."

Some strange story about
how they knew they were
coming.

Lamar primped to nab Grammys

Bob Dylan, Taylor Swift and Beyoncé are among the nominees for the Grammy nominations.

College Football

Playoff is set

Ohio State, Michigan State and Oregon, with Alabama and Wisconsin topping the final rankings.

Weather

A high-pressure system will dominate much of the state through Sunday, with temperatures in the 50s and 60s.

Music

Taylor Swift and Beyoncé are among the nominees for the Grammy nominations.

College Football

Playoff is set

Ohio State, Michigan State and Oregon, with Alabama and Wisconsin topping the final rankings.

Weather

A high-pressure system will dominate much of the state through Sunday, with temperatures in the 50s and 60s.

Music

Taylor Swift and Beyoncé are among the nominees for the Grammy nominations.

College Football

Playoff is set

Ohio State, Michigan State and Oregon, with Alabama and Wisconsin topping the final rankings.

Weather

A high-pressure system will dominate much of the state through Sunday, with temperatures in the 50s and 60s.

Music

Taylor Swift and Beyoncé are among the nominees for the Grammy nominations.

College Football

Playoff is set

Ohio State, Michigan State and Oregon, with Alabama and Wisconsin topping the final rankings.

Weather

A high-pressure system will dominate much of the state through Sunday, with temperatures in the 50s and 60s.

Music

Taylor Swift and Beyoncé are among the nominees for the Grammy nominations.

College Football

Playoff is set

Ohio State, Michigan State and Oregon, with Alabama and Wisconsin topping the final rankings.

Weather

A high-pressure system will dominate much of the state through Sunday, with temperatures in the 50s and 60s.

Music

Taylor Swift and Beyoncé are among the nominees for the Grammy nominations.